

THE FIRE – PART 2

The other two firefighters run into the house with a long hose. They are trying to extinguish the fire. It is not a big fire, but it is spreading quickly. Mrs. Wilson comes out of the house.

Hose – extinguish – spread – quickly – come out

Mr. Wilson goes back into the house to try to help the men. Ten minutes later, the fire is under control. In half an hour it is out. Mr. Wilson thanks the firemen. They take their ladder and their hose back to the truck. Then, they get into the truck. Jimmy is looking at them. He is not afraid now and he is smiling. He thanks them too.

Later - back - thanks

The firemen leave. The two children wave goodbye. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson go into the house. First, they look at the rooms in the ground floor. The hall is all wet but there is no damage to the furniture. However, the wallpaper is ruined. They look at the living room. The door is closed and only the ceiling is a little damaged. Then they go upstairs. It is difficult to walk up the stairs because they are wet and slippery. The staircase isn't damaged because it's made of stone. The bedrooms and the bathroom are burned out. So are the beds, rugs, curtains, and chairs.

They are all a bit sad but at the same time happy because they are safe and sound after the fire.
